Direct Behavior Rating – Social Validity

Show the student the DBR form, explain how it will be used and who it will be shared with (e.g., parents/guardians). Then, ask the student: “Before we get started, please let me know what you think about this as a way to help you at school.”

1. I agree that the behaviors on the DBR form are important for me to be successful at school.
2. I think my teacher will be fair when rating my behaviors on the DBR.
3. I would like to check-in with my teacher to remind me of what behaviors we are working on.
4. The DBR form will help me see how I am doing with showing the behaviors I am working on.
5. Getting feedback from my teacher using the DBR will help me be more successful at school.
6. I think my parents will help me practice behaviors we are working on when you send the DBR form home.
7. I think my parents will like the behaviors I am working on.
