

INSTRUCTIONAL FEEDBACK

IN A VIRTUAL LEARNING ENVIRONMENT

Watch a brief introduction and check out the updated video for virtual learning environments!

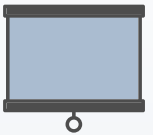

1

Identify learning goals for the virtual learning module, lesson, or activity.

2

Provide instructions to meet the established goals.

3

Provide clear directions and check for understanding frequently and in multiple ways.

4

Incorporate opportunities for students to practice and receive feedback during the module, session, or activity.

5

Implement active supervision and provide instructional feedback either to a group or privately in chat or breakout rooms.

6

Provide ample time and direction for students to practice and review work as needed.

7

Reflect on your virtual instructional feedback, including how often you give feedback to students as well as how you deliver it.

8

Offer students an opportunity to give feedback on how instructional feedback is being offered.
